Portfolio 2020 - 2021

Raylanfran.co serves as my hub for posting my work! The portfolio serves to showcase my personality, life philosophy, and the fruit of the years I've spent honing my vocation as a technological ninja.

The website itself is a direct nod to way I learned to program, tinkering with websites and churning out new creations with plain HTML, CSS, and JavaScript.

Cthulu

Cthulu is my own rendition of Hulu! The app connects to the OMDB API to pull information about movies from several categories. This project utilizes React, Tailwind CSS, and NextJS.

Voice of the Invoice

Voice of the Invoice is a full-stack React app that consumes data from an API that I created using Strapi, the headless Node CMS. All of the components were built using Tailwind CSS – it also comes with light and dark mode!

Black Privilege

Black Privilege is Vermillion Sky's premiere app. Developed using React Native, Nest.js, and MobX, the project utilizes Uncle Bob's clean code architecture for scalability.
